1985-86 PSA NATURE DIV. COMPETITIONS FOR INDIVIDUALS.

There will be held this year four nature slide contests for individuals. Each will be judged at the different clubs. A strong emphasis is on the tryouts of new work. Any slides previously accepted at the clubs or international competitions should not be submitted. Fee for all four contests is $3.00.

Look for the details and the sample of entry forms in February '85 PSA Journal, page 45.

ANSEL ADAMS' PEAK

A 12,000-foot peak in Yosemite National Park has been officially named Mount Ansel Adams in honor of the famed nature photographer who died in April 1984.

Adams took some of his most famous photographs at Yosemite. The Sierra Club had proposed the name change. Adams climbed the peak in 1921. This change will take effect on April 22, the first anniversary of Adams death at age 82.
